

Harvey Eagleson, Professor of English, addresses the troops assembled around the fire circle at Camp Radford.

FRESHMAN CAMP

The class of '59 starts its Caltech career with the traditional three-day trip to Camp Radford in the San Bernardino Mountains.

L. W. Jones, Dean of Admissions, surrounded by some of his charges.

Aside from speeches by student leaders and faculty members about life at Caltech, freshman camp offered everything from a chance to meet President DuBridge to chess, softball, eating, swimming, and tame deer.

