

COMMENCEMENT 1966

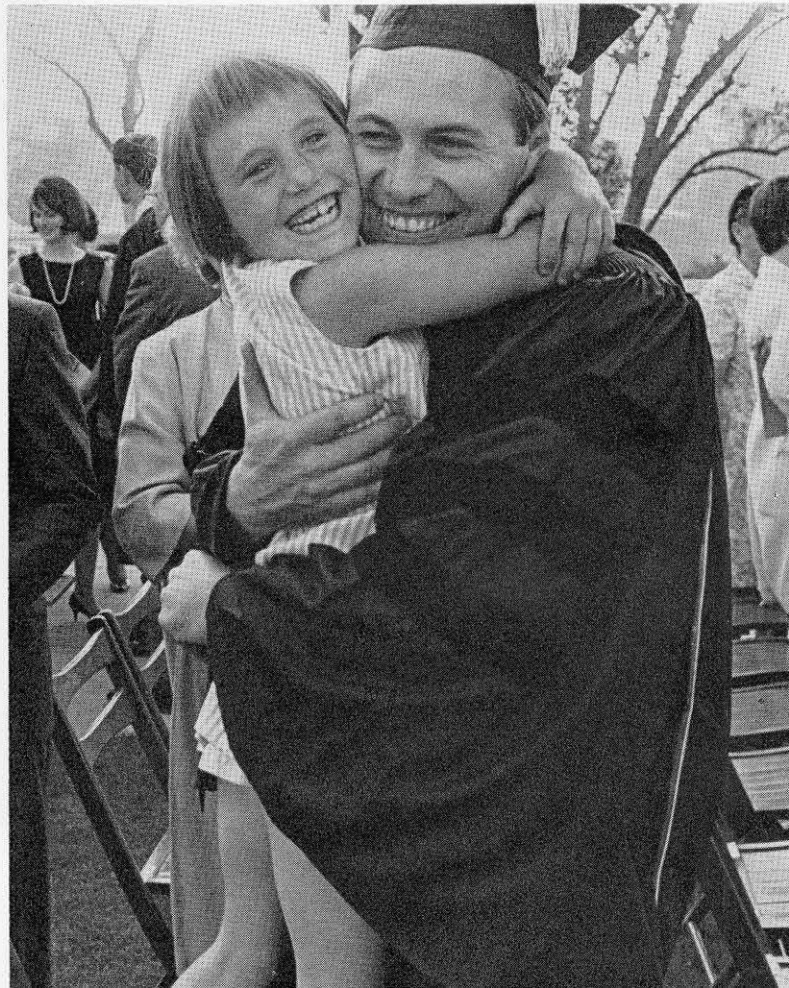

At Caltech's 72nd annual commencement on June 10, a total of 374 students received degrees—135 bachelors of science, 127 masters of science, 8 engineers, and 104 doctors of philosophy. One-third of the seniors were honor students who maintained a B-plus average throughout their four years at Caltech.

Theodore O. Yntema, retired vice president and director of the Ford Motor Company, gave the commencement address, "The Role of the Scientist in Society."
